Saver Starter allows you to quickly switch between a set of pre-configured screen saver parameters, and restart your current screen saver. Installation & Licensing: Installation and Activation: Saver Starter can be activated in two ways: Directly by installing the program, or from a link provided by the author. Direct install: Download the installation executable from this site. Save the zip archive to your hard drive. Double click the main executable file (SaverStarter.exe), or run the executable program directly (if that's supported by your antivirus program). A dialog box will appear. Click the "Custom" button and select "Open Existing Installation". Double click on the file "SaverStarterInstall.exe" in the "Installation Folder" list. Double click on the "Saver Starter" icon in the installation folder. If the installation was successful, "Saver Starter is running" will appear in the status bar.

Additional Licensing Information: Saver Starter includes a special license file - SaverStarterLicense.txt. If you would like to run Saver Starter on another computer, first download the program. Then double click on the main executable file (SaverStarter.exe), or run the executable program directly (if that's supported by your antivirus program). The program will load and run. When it is finished, double click on the icon "Saver Starter" in the lower left hand corner. Next, double click on the icon "Start License" in the lower left hand corner, and follow the instructions. You might be asked to allow an executable file to be opened. Select "Yes, run this program whenever I want" and click the Run button. You might also receive a message telling you to cancel the program. Please note that this is a new feature in the Windows XP SP3 (Service Pack 3) operating system and it is an optional feature. It is still recommended that you proceed with activating the
